EBDG Adds Technical Staff to Seattle Office

Shrestha and Moser Join Engineering Team

SEATTLE, WA (June 25, 2018) – Elliott Bay Design Group (EBDG) has added two marine professionals to the Seattle office.

Alina Shrestha, Naval Architect

Alina joined EBDG as a contractor in 2017 and is now a full-time naval architect. She is a broadly skilled engineer and researcher with experience in vessel repair, design and analysis, material planning, construction management, regulatory compliance and inspection. Alina will be responsible for the design, construction and repair of vessels, ensuring that a safe, economic and seaworthy design is produced.

Shrestha, Naval Architect

John Moser, Marine Engineer

John is a recent graduate from Texas A&M University at Galveston and joins EBDG as a marine engineer. Prior to obtaining his degree, John was a firefighter and emergency responder in Central Texas and he is an Iraq War Veteran. As a junior member, John will develop analyses, drawings and technical reports while providing engineering support to project managers.
