EBDG Welcomes Staff to New Orleans Office

SEATTLE, WA (August 16, 2018) – Elliott Bay Design Group has added two marine professionals to its New Orleans office.

Grayson Laborde, Naval Architect

Grayson is a recent graduate of the University of New Orleans, where he received a Bachelor of Science in Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering. Over the past year, he has interned with Elliott Bay Design Group in the New Orleans office. He joins the team as a naval architect and is already contributing through his background in the OSV market and knowledge of the marine industry.

George Scully, Electrical Designer

George joins Elliott Bay Design Group as an electrical designer and brings 20 years of experience in engineering and design work. His experience includes working for both shipbuilding and offshore companies. His return to the New Orleans area and knowledge of the marine industry will enhance the profile and expertise of the Gulf Coast office.
